TIME NOW FOR THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT TO RE-EXAMINE SITUATION IN THE FAR EAST

Toleration Of Japan's Aggression Is To Meet Further Disaster

Chungking, December 8.
THE FAR EASTERN DEBATE in the House of Lords on Tuesday, also the Government reply made by Lord Plymouth, were given prominence to-day in the Chinese press under banner headlines.

The "Takungpao," influential Chinese daily newspaper, in an editorial entitled, "The time has come," declares, "It is now time for the British Government to re-examine the situation in the Far East in the light of last year's developments and to fix its Far Eastern policy."

"If Great Britain will collaborate with the United States and uphold the Nine-Power Treaty the Far Eastern situation will take a new turn. To further tolerate Japan's aggression in China is to meet further disaster. Great Britain must help China in order to protect British interests in the Far East."—Reuter.

NO INTERFERENCE

Tokyo, Dec. 8.
British attempts to stand in the way of Japan's work in establishing a new order in the Far East will not be tolerated, states the Tokyo "Nichi Nichi" commenting on the Far Eastern debate in the House of Lords.

"Japan will adopt a definite attitude to cope with any British interference," the paper adds.—Reuter.

PROMPT ACTION URGED

Commenting upon the debate in the House of Lords on Tuesday regarding Great Britain's deteriorating trade conditions in China, consequent upon the Japanese invasion, the "Sing Tao Jih Pao" urges Britain to take prompt action to protect her rights and interests.

"All of us know that Japan's military operations in China," the paper declares, "are designed to reduce China to a vanquished state on the one hand and to dominate the Far Eastern market on the other."

As regards the measures to protect British interests in China, the journal says that they do not necessarily involve armed intervention. Economic action in the form of boycott of Japanese goods, extension of loans to China, and the refusal to meet Japan's desperate need for foreign exchange and credits will prove a deadly and effective weapon for the purpose.—Central News.

"JAPAN'S BASIC POLICY"

Tokyo, Dec. 8.
Mr. Hachiro Arita, Japanese Foreign Minister, this morning saw the United States Ambassador, Mr. Joseph C. Grew, for the purpose of explaining "Japan's true intentions in regard to the question of open door and other matters arising out of Japan's basic policy to establish a new order in East Asia" according to the Japanese press.

Mr. Arita will see the British Ambassador, Sir Robert Craigie, this afternoon for the same purpose, it is understood.—Reuter.

165,000,000 Affected By Sino-Japan War

Chungking, Dec. 8.
About 165,000,000 people in China have been directly or indirectly affected by the war, and 38,000,000 of them are war refugees, depending upon the Government and public charitable organizations for a living, according to a Chinese survey to-day.

Over 10,000,000 have moved westward in the past few months. Definite measures have been taken by the National and Provincial Governments to send these refugees to the interior. Uncultivated land in the interior provinces is being developed by these refugees under the direct supervision of the National Relief Commission and the Ministry of Economic Affairs.—International.

Sandpiper Incident Settled

JAPANESE TO PAY DAMAGES

Shanghai, Dec. 8.
An amicable settlement of the bombing of H.M.S. Sandpiper at Changsha by six heavy Japanese bombers on October 24 was announced by a Japanese naval spokesman to-day who said that the Japanese naval authorities had written a letter expressing regret for the incident and had promised to pay damages.

The spokesman declared that the British authorities had recognized that the attack was not deliberate, "thus rescinding the former allegation to the contrary."

Asked if indemnity had been paid, the spokesman replied, "Not yet."

It is reliably learned that Vice-Admiral Oikawa addressed a formal letter to Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Noble, Commander-in-Chief of the China Station, expressing regret and promising, on behalf of the Japanese Government, to pay damages.—Reuter.

FEAST OF IMMACULATE CONCEPTION CELEBRATED

Solemn Ceremonies At The Catholic Cathedral

THREE BISHOPS PARTICIPATE

The Catholic community of Hongkong celebrated the Feast of the Immaculate Conception and the Golden Jubilee of the Roman Catholic Cathedral, Caine Road, which was inaugurated on December 8, 1888.

The solemn ceremonies which took place at the Cathedral commenced at 6.15 a.m. when H. E. Mgr. Valtorta, Vicar Apostolic of Hongkong, assisted by H. E. Mgr. Da Costa Nunes, Bishop of Macao, and H. E. Mgr. Desvazieres, Titular Bishop of Maximina, officiated.

Despite the early hour, the ceremonies were attended by a large congregation. Many travelled from the outposts by foot and kept arriving while the ceremonies were in progress.

As an act of thanksgiving the Cathedral was solemnly consecrated by Bishop Valtorta. The ceremony of opening the door of the Cathedral was performed after which the Bishop and clergy entered the building, whilst the congregation remained in the open. Inside the Cathedral, His Lordship approached the Altar and the Prostration during the chanting of the Litanies of the Saints. The formal taking possession was by tracing the Latin and Greek Alphabets (symbolical of the Church) in the ashes strewn on the floor in the form of the Cross. The Altar and the interior of the Church was then blessed.

PROCESSION OF RELICS

The Procession of the Relics from their resting place to the Cathedral took place and following this the public were admitted. Various other ceremonies in connection with the ceremony were held and the Pontifical High Mass—the First Great Sacrifice in the newly consecrated Church concluded the ceremonies for the day at 11.80 a.m.

During the ceremonies choral music was rendered by the Salesian Choir of Shauiwan, with Father Reganti at the organ. Selections from Psalms were also sung.

In the evening, an endless stream of Catholics attended the services at which Father Gallagher, S. J. preached the sermon. The Altar was flood-lighted.

ENTERTAINMENT

The Schola Cantorum Immaculate Conceptionis gave a pleasant evening of entertainment at St. Patrick's Hall, Garden Road, which was attended by Bishop Valtorta, and the Bishops of Macao and Maximina.

PROCESSION ON SUNDAY

On Sunday the Order of the Eucharistic will hold a procession, at which Bishop Valtorta will officiate and will be assisted by the Bishop of Macao and the Bishop of Maximina. The procession will start from the Cathedral at 9.30 a.m. and will proceed up to Robinson Road, through Albany Road to Caine Road and back to the Church.

Approximately 1,250 Catholics will take place in the procession beside the public.

SEVEN MINERS KILLED

Quebec, Dec. 8.
Seven miners of the Thetford Mines were killed near here by a rock slide at the Bell Asbestos mine following blasting operations. The men were buried under falling rocks.—Reuter.

Dictators To Have Secret Meeting In Vienna

Paris, December 8.
Madame Tabouis, writing in "L'Oeuvre" says it is believed in Berlin that Herr Hitler has convened for December 9 and 10 an important conference at Munich to discuss the continuation of the Munich policy and the aims of the Rome-Berlin axis.

ANOTHER CITY FIRE SCARE

Staunton Street Incident

Another fire scare disturbed the peace and quiet of the city at 1.30 o'clock this morning when a call was put through to the Central Fire Station to the effect that the top of floor of No. 1 Staunton Street had caught fire.

Fortunately the outbreak was not a serious one and was quelled before the two appliances despatched to the scene had arrived.

It appears that the occupants of the flat involved were burning joss sticks and part of the verandah caught alight. Some energetic passer-by immediately telephoned to the Fire Brigade to say that a "big fire" was raging in Staunton Street.

Japanese Unable To Penetrate Farther Into Kwangsi, Yunnan Now Rely On Aircraft

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT)

Chungking, December 8.
Unable to penetrate farther in Kwangsi or Yunnan, the Japanese forces in South China are relying on their naval air force to continue the bombing of interior towns, extending as far as Yunnan and western Kwangsi, it was learned to-day.

Large numbers of bombs are stored in transports near Whampoa for the use of aircraft carriers, one of which is located in the Gulf of Tonkin within easy striking distance of Kwangsi and Yunnan, which are regarded by the enemy as China's communications links.

All cities in the interior anticipate such raids and have taken precautions. What worries the authorities are the universities, which are crowded in Kunming and Kweiyang, following their removal from Peiping, Hankow and Nanking. Japanese planes have invariably dropped bombs on these seats of learning classifying them as military objectives.

Apart from aerial bombing, no military advance is likely. In the Canton regions, the Japanese are preparing for a siege. Chinese columns are slowly coming down from the north, and on the East River the Chinese are counter-attacking Pok Lo. One report states that Walchow, important town on the East River, is surrounded by Chinese troops.

Arrivals from Kowloon state that the town remains in Chinese hands. Japanese troops are close to Kowloon but have made no attempt to enter it. No bombs have been dropped on Kowloon throughout the raids in Kwangtung during the past fifteen months, although Japanese planes

BANKRUPTCY PETITION REFUSED BY COURT

Serious Allegations Made Against Pasco Denied

TRUE LIABILITIES CONCEALED

SERIOUS ALLEGATIONS THAT PETITIONER had been guilty not only of fraud, or misconduct amounting to fraud, but that he had been guilty of criminal actions in obtaining property and money by false pretences, were made by Mr. E. S. C. Brooks when Boris Pasco, of the Harris Bookshop, filed an unsuccessful petition for bankruptcy before the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice R.E. Lindsell, in the Bankruptcy Court yesterday.

Mr. Brooks was representing Mr. H. Hong Sling who, with Mr. L. A. Tobias, represented by Mr. A. el Arculli, opposed the petition as execution creditors. Mr. J. M. D'Amada Remedios, appeared for Pasco.

PLAGUE AMONG JAPANESE RANKS

Nanchang, Dec. 8.

Adding another difficulty to their operations, the Japanese forces on the Tchan front are scourged by a rapidly spreading plague epidemic which daily claims large numbers of victims, according to field despatches received here.

In the vicinity of Hailuissu at the foot of Kuling again, it is stated, 300 cavalry men and over 100 horses have recently died of the dread disease.—Central News.

BIG AIR RAID ALARM TEST IN LONDON

London, Dec. 8.

The first big test of air raid alarms was sounded in London this morning when a hundred sirens sounded warning notes for five minutes. Ten minutes later a continuous note signified the all clear.

Listeners, posted in various parts of the city, will report to the police what part, if any, of London where the alarm could not be heard.—Reuter.

Petitioner's solicitor denied the allegations, but an admission that he had concealed his true liabilities in getting help from a Mr. Merry, of the English firm of Messrs. John Dickinson & Co., was made in the witness-box by Pasco.

In evidence Pasco said that his present occupation was a book-seller in the Harris Bookshop at $200 a month. His liabilities were $17,299.60 and his assets were nil, except his salary.

He formerly traded as Brewer & Co. and the liabilities incurred in this business added to his bankruptcy. He first became a partner in Brewer's in 1920 and subsequently purchased the business for $20,000. In 1927 he assumed the liabilities of the partnership. He was then banking with the Chase Bank, which granted him certain banking facilities for the purchase of large stocks of books.

$15,000 EXCHANGE LOSS

In 1931 he had occasion to fix exchange amounting to $2,500, and as a result of that transaction he incurred a loss of about $15,000. This was due to the exchange going against him. He intended to sell out at first but the bank manager advised him against this. As a result of the loss, the bank called in his banking facilities, and he had to borrow money to pay it off.

Big Shield Attraction At Sookunpoo To-morrow

SOUTH CHINA "A" TO MEET MIDDLESEX IN 1ST ROUND

(By G.I.R.E.)

THE SOOKUNPOO ENCLOSURE will be filled to capacity to-morrow afternoon when South China "A" and Middlesex meet in the first round of the Senior Shield—a match which has been eagerly awaited and over which there has been much speculation in view of the fact that the military side surprisingly defeated the Chinese at Cavendish Hill in their first League encounter earlier this season. On that occasion Middlesex won by the odd goal in three after a very fast and interesting game.

To-morrow's game, with the "cup tie" spirit dominating, should prove even more exciting and all soccer fans who make their way to Sookunpoo are promised excellent fare for their game money.

The meeting of two such strong teams in the first round of the Shield may to some followers of the game seem rather unfortunate but this cannot be helped as it is all in the luck of the draw.

Both South China "A" and Middlesex are capable of winning their way to the final so that the result of to-morrow's key match should go far to indicate the eventual winners of the coveted trophy.

An analysis of the respective team's performances in the League thus far will not be out of place. South China "A" have been very successful up to the present and their record is a formidable one. In ten matches they have lost only once and have garnered 18 points out of a possible 30.

In addition their goal average is also formidable. They have scored 41 goals for only nine against, which speaks much for their forward and also for Pau Ka-ping, the goalkeeper, and among the best custodians in the Colony.

The team is well balanced with at least three good goal-getters in the attack and a steady defence with the veteran Lee Tin-sang almost impenetrable.

NARROW WIN

Middlesex completed the first round of their League fixtures on Saturday last with a narrow win over Eastern by the odd goal in seven thus obtaining 13 points out of a total of 20 having won six matches and drawn one. Middlesex lost three matches their conquerors being Club (3-2), Kowloon (3-0) and Navy (4-3). The soldiers' goal average is not quite so impressive as that of South China "A" having scored 24

SPORTS FLASHES

(BY F. MELA).

I HEAR THAT DONALD BLACK is due back from Home leave about the middle of January. That should give him plenty of time to prepare for the Annual Race Meeting. As he is one of the most popular jockeys in Hongkong, followers of the turf will be glad to hear that he is having a very enjoyable holiday and is extremely fit and well.

TEL TUFNELL, who some seasons ago was one of the leading bowlers in the Navy, has turned his attention to soccer and was amongst those who played for H.M.S. Tamar against H.M.S. Decoy at Happy Valley yesterday. I hope he has not completely forsaken cricket as he is one of the most consistent bowlers turned out by the Navy for many years.

K. NAZARIN, O. EL ARCUILLI, M. el Arcuilli and A. R. Kit-cnell will form the nucleus of the India softball team which it is hoped, will take part in the forthcoming International Series. They were practising at Sookunpoo yesterday and should do quite well, having already won laurels on the baseball diamond.

THE TENNIS COURTS at Sookunpoo are being used daily at the moment and though the matches are purely friendly ones, the form shown by some of the players should augur well for the Army in the League next summer. As so many of the Army ladies play regularly, it is surprising they have not entered a team in the Mixed Doubles League before now.

STAMBOUL QUEST

The story of Europe's loveliest spy, "Fraulein Doktor," came to life in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "Stamboul Quest" at the Majestic Theatre to-day.

There have been many spy dramas unfolded on the screen, but none so gripping and dramatic as this drama of the woman who sent Mata Hari to her death.

As Annemarie, the mysterious "Fraulein Doktor" who is accepted throughout Europe as a myth, Myrna Loy further proves that she is one of the most versatile figures in pictures and deserving of stardom more than any other actress of the films.

Detective Charlie Chan Appears In Comic Strip Drawn By Boyhood Fan

Earl Derr Biggers died in 1933, but popular editions on his six Charlie Chan books still rank among the best-sellers. Translated into 11 foreign languages, they are popular with detective fans all over the world. Film fans likewise have thrilled to the adventures of Charlie on the screen as portrayed by Warner Oland, Swedish-American actor who died on August 7.

STAN LAUREL SUES HAL ROACH

Hollywood, Dec. 8. Stan Laurel, the film comedian, has filed suit claiming $700,000 from the Hal Roach Studios, alleging breach of contract.

Stan Laurel's dismissal by Hal Roach last August broke up the Laurel-Hardy team. Laurel alleges that his dismissal has made it difficult for him to obtain other work in films.—Reuter.

THAT CERTAIN AGE

The advent of any Deanna Durbin picture is a milestone in the history of the screen. From the surprising "Three Smart Girls" through the beautiful and stirring "100 Men and a Girl" and the touching "Mad About Music" right to the current "That Certain Age," now at the Queen's Theatre, her pictures have been a delight and a revelation.

Starring Deanna, with Melvyn Douglas, Irene Rich, Jackie Cooper, John Halliday, Juanita Guilely, Jackie Searl, Peggy Stewart, Nancy Carroll and Charles Coleman, "That Certain Age" tells the story of a young girl, nearing sixteen, who meets a war correspondent and fancies herself violently in love with him.

Deanna sings three popular numbers, "My Own," "Be a Good Scout," and "You're as Pretty as a Picture," and two classical selections, "Les Filles Des Cadix" by Leo Delibes and "Romeo and Juliet Waltz," from the opera.

Now the canny and philosophical little Chinese detective has appeared before the public in a new guise. A comic strip, in which the ingredient of mystery is well mixed, has made its bow to newspaper readers in America, and very soon the strip will be a regular feature in hundreds of journals throughout the world.

Charlie's adventures are being drawn and written by Alfred Andriola, 28-year-old former student of the Columbia School of Journalism. Andriola first read the Biggers books in his teens; his Charlie Chan, who fathoms crimes in his usual shrewd, philosophical fashion, is a dead ringer for the late Warner Oland, but the artist has added romance between Gina Lane, Chan's pretty secretary, and Kirk Barrow, vivid, handsome assistant to the All-Wise One.

Earl Derr Biggers' big idea came to him one day in the New York Public Library. The young novelist was reading the "Honolulu Star-Bulletin" and noticed a small news item concerning a clever Chinese detective on the Honolulu police force—and Charlie Chan was born!

NOTED CHINESE PAPER REVIVED

Kunming, Dec. 7. Under the energetic guidance of Dr. Paul Yu Pin, Vicar Apostolic for Nanking, and Father V. Lobbe, naturalised Chinese citizen of Belgian birth and commander of the North China field service corps, the "Yih Shih Pao" (Social Welfare News) will make its reappearance in Kunming to-morrow. The "Yih Shih Pao," formerly of Tientsin, was one of the most influential papers in North China before it was forcibly taken over by the local bogus authorities and lost its independence following the Japanese occupation of North China. Father Lobbe was the managing director and Dr. Yu one of the directors of the paper.

Dr. Lo Lung-ki, former chief editor of the "Yih Shih Pao," will again head the editorial department.

The Yih Shih News Agency will also resume to-morrow.—Central News.

WIDOW NEED NOT DISCLOSE TALKS WITH HUSBAND

Judgment to the effect that a widow may not be compelled to disclose communications made to her by her husband during their marriage was given by Mr. Justice Simonds in the Chancery Division recently.

His Lordship refused an application by Mrs. Florence Annie Shenton, who wished to deliver interrogatories to Mrs. Edith Lillian Tyler, widow of Mr. Edmund Deebie Tyler, to substantiate her claim that Mr. Tyler left his widow the residue of his estate—about £70,000—subject to a promise that she would pay Mrs. Shenton £2 a week for life.

Mrs. Tyler, who was defendant in an action by Mrs. Shenton, relied on the rule of law that a wife may not be forced to disclose any communication made to her by her husband.

Mr. Roger Turnbull, for Mrs. Shenton, contended that the rule had no application to a widow.

"BETRAYAL ALLEGATION"

Mr. Justice Simonds said that Mrs. Tyler denied that any such wish was expressed by her husband or promise made.

The proposed interrogatories were objected to on the ground that any communication made by Mr. Tyler to his wife, or by her to him, was protected by the old Common Law rule of the inviolability of any confidence which had passed between husband and wife—a rule which went back for many centuries.

A widow always was an admissible witness, as was a woman who was divorced, but whether a widow or a divorced woman, she was not compellable or admissible as a witness in regard to matters which had passed between herself and her husband during the married state.

It was said that in this case the widow, by pleading this rule, might be enabled, for her own benefit, to betray the confidence put in her by her husband.

That might be so, but it was not possible, in his Lordship's judgment, to make a breach in the general rule of Common Law because, in a particular case, it might lead to injustice.

TWO WEDDINGS AT REGISTRY

Mr. P. Shen-yu, assistant, South-Western Transportation Co., Ltd., and Miss Lee Chung-kwong were married at the Registry Supreme Court, yesterday. Mr. T. J. Gould officiated and the witnesses were Mr. Li Chiu-ting and Miss Cheung Yuk.

Another marriage solemnised was that between Mr. Chan Shu-ming, clerk at Nanyang Brothers Tobacco Co., Ltd., and Miss Tang Yee-king. The witnesses were Mr. Lam Ming-yue and Miss Chung Yin-luk.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The forthcoming marriage is announced between Mr. Jew Quock-lin, merchant, of No. 6 Han-kow Street, third floor, and Miss Chou Lai-ying, of No. 9 Cedar Street, first floor.

Round About

A popular young lady was invited to a formal dinner party, and an invitation was extended also to an escort of her choice. Telephoning a male acquaintance, she extended the invitation to him.

Accepting the invitation over the telephone, he hesitated before arranging the particulars of time, venue etc., and asked if the guests were "dressing?"

When his question was answered in the affirmative he unconsciously burst forth with the information, that "a friend of mine had the trousers belonging to my dinner suit!"

The young lady, knowing the friend to whom he referred, replied, "Skip the date then, I will ask—the man who has the pants and wears them!"

And so the popular young lady was escorted to the dinner party by the man who had a pair of dress trousers!

Miss Shen Ya-kin, graduate of the Conservatory of Bruxelles and prize winner of the Concours Yaeye, will give a pianoforte recital under the auspices of the French Club, Hongkong University, in the University Upper Assembly Room at 5.30 p.m. to-day.

Donald Duck In House Of Commons

Two members of the House of Commons have the nicknames "Henry the Eighth" and "Donald Duck."

This was mentioned recently by two women M.P.s, Miss Thelma Cazalet and Miss Megan Lloyd George, who were discussing the House of Commons informally at a reception at Lady Luke's house in Portman Square in aid of King Edward's Hospital Fund, but they would give no clue as to the identity of the members concerned.

Miss Lloyd George explained that "Henry the Eighth" was so called because of his appearance only.

Miss Lloyd George said that women were still regarded more or less as curiosities in the House. The words "Strictly private" which are printed outside the women members' sitting room were, she thought, put there just as much to keep them in as to keep others out.

POLITICS AND FRIENDSHIP
Miss Cazalet said that by far the best thing about the House was that politics never became mixed up with friendships. During a recent visit to Germany she had described to some friends how she had overheard a conversation in the corridor between a Conservative and Major Gwilym Lloyd George, a Liberal member.

The Conservative went up to Major Lloyd George and said, "I am awfully sorry, old boy, but I find I am booked to speak against you at a meeting." Major Gwilym Lloyd George replied, "That's all right, old fellow; I'll just go and look you out a train."

DUKE'S HOME AT CANBERRA

The temporary quarters of the Governor-General at Canberra are to be enlarged to accommodate the Duke and Duchess of Kent when they arrive in Australia next year. The house was originally a sheep station homestead. A nursery is to be added to it, together with a large new dining room, reception rooms and a ball room. The cost will be £25,000.

It was suggested that a new permanent Government House at Canberra should be built, but in view of the fact that the Duke and Duchess will probably spend a good deal of their time in visiting the State the less ambitious plan of enlarging the existing building has been decided upon.

It is expected that the Victorian Government will lend the State Government House at Melbourne, formerly the Federal Government House, to the Duke and Duchess for their use when in the City.

Mrs. W. E. Kirby and Miss C. Kirby returned from Home yesterday in the Aeneas. Mr. W. E. Kirby is secretary of the China Coast Officers' Guild and joint secretary of the Marine Engineers' Guild of China.

Messrs. Mei Sze-ping and Ling Po-sheng have been sent by the Central Propaganda Department from Chungking to Hongkong to establish close relations with the Chinese press. They arrived here a few days ago and will entertain local pressmen at the Hotel Cecil at 4 p.m. to-day.

The eleventh annual Christmas concert of the Hongkong University Christian Association will be given in the Great Hall of the University on Sunday, December 18, commencing at 9 p.m., when a programme of Christmas carols and community singing is promised.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION REFUSED BY COURT

At that time he was financially embarrassed and he applied to the local representative, Mr. Merry, of John Dickinson & Co., for help. They assisted him to the extent of £1,500 on condition that he had his business transferred to a limited liability company and had debentures issued in favour of the firm. The capital of the new company was stated at $40,000, of which he had $35,000 in shares. He continued as manager at a salary of $700. This was reduced in August, 1932, to $500, and in January, 1933, to $250. Finally, he was discharged in December, 1934.

He understood that the business had been sold by the Receiver, Mr. H. R. Forsyth, on behalf of the debenture holders. The $35,000 worth of shares he had were taken over by the Receiver as collateral security and were never returned to him.

After his discharge, he remained unemployed for three months and then obtained a position in the Harris Bookshop, the owner of which was his wife, who obtained financial assistance from her mother.

LIABILITIES UNDISCLOSED—In cross-examination, Pasco admitted there were certain other liabilities which he did not reveal to Mr. Merry, and that the statement which he had prepared for John Dickinson & Co. was false. He did this because he realized that, if he disclosed them, the transaction would not have gone through.

Mr. Brooks: I submit the petition should be refused because not only was there fraud in this case, but on his own admission Pasco had committed an act which amounts to a criminal offence by obtaining property by false pretences. Further, he has committed another criminal act when he told my client the stocks belonged to him, whereas in fact they did not. My submission is that a man like Pasco, who had been living in the past five years on creditors, is not a man to whom the Bankruptcy Ordinance applies.

Mr. Brooks: In July 31, 1933 or just before then you approached Mr. Hong Sling for a loan?—No. But there was a loan to you which Mr. Hong Sling guaranteed?—Yes.

I suggest to you that you approached him first and when he refused you asked him to become a guarantor?—No.

"I CANNOT"—Producing a statement of liabilities and assets which was stated to have been prepared by Pasco during the transfer of the business, Mr. Brooks asked: Can you say this statement is correct?—I cannot.

According to that statement, only $1,500 is still due to Mr. Brewer and not $6,000 as you have just stated?—It is $6,000.

The company was formed on May 18, 1933?—Yes.

On the same day these debentures for $1,500 were issued?—Yes.

You received no cash at all for the sale of your business?—No.

The directors of the business were yourself, Mr. Merry and Mr. Tobias?—Yes.

I put it to you, that, within a short time, about a month, of the formation of the company it was discovered that this statement of your liabilities was entirely false and that there were other liabilities amounting to $13,000?—I am not sure of the amount but there were others.

That was entirely false, was it not?—Yes.

OTHER LIABILITIES—And you didn't tell Dickinson & Co. of these other liabilities?—No. I had my reasons.

But you told Mr. Tobias that, if you had mentioned the other liabilities, the company would not have been formed?—I never said that.

So if Mr. Tobias were to come and say that, he would be telling an untruth?—Yes.

Mr. Brooks: Some time ago, you used to drive an Austin seven?—Yes. It was my car.

What became of it?—I sold it. Did you sell that car or trade-in for a new one?—I sold it.

Can you swear that you didn't trade that car for the other one which you alleged was your wife's?—I swear to that.

I think you will agree with me that your memory is not your strong point from what has been said just now, but I want to ask (Continued on Page 9)

BANKRUPTCY COURT

Two petitions were brought by Alberto Jose Castro and Makhan Singh, both of which were granted, at the Bankruptcy Court yesterday.

In answer to Mr. Justice Lind-sell, Castro said that he was in the hands of money-lenders and was at present paying three instalments totalling $7.

In the case of Makhan Singh, petitioner said his liabilities were about $5,000, all due to money-lenders. Six years ago, he said, his father went back to India and he and his brother took over his liabilities amounting to $2,800. He was now paying the money-lenders $15 a month, out of his salary of $30.

FORTHCOMING ART SHOW

Luis Chan's Fourth One-Man Display

An exhibition of oil paintings and watercolours by Mr. Luis Chan, vice-president of the Hongkong Working Artists' Guild, will be held at St. John's Cathedral Hall on Monday, December 19, when the Rev. J. L. Wilson, Dean of the Cathedral, will perform the opening ceremony at 11 a.m.

The exhibition, which is the fourth one-man show by a single local artist in four succeeding years, will remain open until Wednesday, December 21.

It will be recalled that in April 1935, Mr. Chan was the first local artist to hold a one-man exhibition. In addition to his own shows, Mr. Chan has also been a regular exhibitor at the Hongkong Art Club exhibitions. During the Club Exhibition held recently he won the Art Club prize for his "Low Tide" as the best picture in the show.

GOVERNOR'S INTEREST

Mr. Chan's work has been acquired by many local residents, and, incidentally, he has been extensively patronised by both his Excellency Sir Geoffrey Northcote and His Excellency Sir Andrew Caldecott, who have six and ten of his paintings in their respective collections. It is understood that H. E. the Governor has kindly consented to lend one of Mr. Chan's paintings in his collection to the show which he and Lady Northcote have graciously consented to attend.

In view of the urgent need for the refugees who have flocked to the New Territories, Mr. Chan has consented to donate 40 per cent of the gross proceeds of the exhibition towards the British Fund for the Relief of Distress in China.

TRANSACTION OF A MINOR

Pleading guilty to a charge of taking part in the transaction of a minor, Ho Mui, 22, unemployed, and Yuen Chan, 24, kept woman, were sentenced by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Court yesterday each to six months' hard labour.

The defendants admitted having sold a three-year-old child to two boatwomen for $80. Ho, the prosecution related, brought the child with him to Kowloon from Shek-lung six weeks ago.

The child was found in the Yau-mati Public Square, alone and apparently abandoned, by a district watchman.

IMPORTANT STATEMENT ON COLONIES MADE IN

HOUSE OF COMMONS

German Government Not Fit To Be Trusted With Fate Of A Backward Race

BRITAIN'S POLICY DISCUSSED IN LABOUR MOTION DEBATE

London, December 8. BRITAIN'S COLONIAL POLICY was discussed in the House of Commons yesterday evening, when Mr. Noel-Baker (Lab.) recalled the "brutal frankness" of Herr Hitler's claim that the former German colonies should be returned.

The claim, made at Munich shortly after the Four-Power Conference, was that the colonies must be returned without exception, without conditions, without a mandate system, and without delay.

By Article 119 of the Versailles Treaty, Germany renounced all her rights and titles over her former overseas possessions, and in law, that article was absolutely decisive.

The rulers of Germany and Italy were artificially increasing the populations of their countries to increase man-power which they hope to use in future wars.

The speaker said that Hitler's racial theories showed that his Government was not fit to be trusted with the fate of a backward people. His treatment of the Jews showed what inferior subject races must expect from his hands.

"With Hitler in Tanganyika or the West Coast of Africa to-day, it would make Africa what Europe is to-day, a volcano of fear, turmoil and unrest, and would start forming great black armies by which the whole history of the continent might be changed," declared Mr. Noel-Baker.

UNCERTAINTY MUST BE REMOVED

An important statement on colonies was made by Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, Secretary for Colonies and Dominions, replying to the debate motion by Mr. Noel-Baker.

Mr. MacDonald emphasised the uncertainty created in the colonies and mandated territories by the demands now being made regarding them, and that uncertainty must be removed.

"For that purpose I have only to state a simple fact. I do not believe there is to-day, any section in this country which is disposed to hand over to any other country the care of any territories or peoples for whose government we are responsible, either as a colonial or mandatory Power. (Cheers.)"

"That view has been expressed in every part of the House, and is shared by the Government."

"We are not discussing this matter; we are not considering it. It is not now an issue in practical politics."

"If we were ever to come to a discussion on this question, certain things would have to be borne in mind."

NOT ONLY COUNTRY

Firstly, that Britain is not the only country which assumed additional territorial responsibilities after the war. Other countries are also involved, and the question will have to be examined by all those countries together."

Mr. MacDonald emphasised that we had responsibilities with regard to the people living in mandated territories. We could not regard them as mere goods and chattels, to be disposed of to others. We must pay attention to their wishes, and the wishes of the different sections of the population in those territories.

POSITIVE APPROVAL

Mr. MacDonald also emphasised that it would be impossible for a Government to do anything with regard to this matter without the House of Commons having the fullest opportunity for discussion.

Indeed, nothing effective could be done without the positive approval of Parliament, and as far as the House of Commons was concerned, a unanimous expression of view had been made from every section of the House in this debate. (Cheers.)

Mr. MacDonald urged the House to reject the motion and to accept the amendment of Colonel C. E. Ponsonby (Conservative, Sevenoaks), that the "Primary purpose of colonial policy should be, the welfare and progress of the inhabitants of the colonial territories, and no change in the status of the colonies, protectorates and mandated territories could be considered which did not take into full account the interests and wishes of the inhabitants."

ITALIAN ENVOY ENTERTAINED

Guest Of "Mayor" Of Shanghai

Shanghai, Dec. 8. Marquis de Marco Tallant, new Italian Ambassador to China, who arrived in Shanghai several weeks ago, en route to Chungking to present his credentials, was the guest of honour last night at a dinner given by "Mayor" Fu Hsiao-en of the Japanese fostered "city government" of Greater Shanghai at the Rokusan Gardens, Hongkew.

Officials of the Italian Embassy when approached by reporters to-day emphatically denied that the Ambassador made a speech at the party. They said, "He made no declaration, no statement and no speech at the party."

When asked when the Ambassador is leaving for Chungking to present his credentials, an official said, "I don't know." The same answer was given to a question whether the Ambassador was planning a trip to Nanking.

Meanwhile Chinese circles attach importance to the Italian envoy's delay to present his credentials while accepting an invitation to attend a party given by an official of the "Government" opposed to that to which he is accredited, and recall a recent report that the anti-Comintern Pact Powers are planning to extend diplomatic recognition to the new "federal government" of China the inauguration of which has been so far unsuccessful owing to Marshal Wu Fei-fu's refusal to accept the presidency.—Reuter.

BUKHARIN TRIAL RECALLED

Nikolai Yezhov Resigns

Moscow, Dec. 8. A communique announces the resignation of M. Nikolai Yezhov, Home Affairs Commissar. M. Yezhov remains Commissar for Water Transport.

The communique mentions no reason for the resignation but it is believed to be due to ill-health. It will be recalled that during the famous Bukharin trial M. Yezhov's predecessor, M. Yagoda, confessed that he tried to assassinate M. Yezhov by spraying poisonous fumes in his office.

According to medical experts M. Yagoda succeeded in permanently undermining M. Yezhov. M. Yezhov's successor, M. Lavrenti Pavlovich, who went to Moscow last summer to prepare for his present post, was previously Secretary of the Trans-Caucasian Communist Party and was virtual ruler of Trans-Caucasia. M. Pavlovich, like M. Stalin, is a native of Georgia.—Reuter.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION REFUSED

you about those liabilities amounting to approximately $17,300. You made out these figures recently?—Yes.

Did you include in these figures the costs owing to the Hongkong Tramways?—I have.

The Local Printing Press, you owed them some money and got my client to guarantee you?—Yes. Have you ever paid Mr. Tobias anything?—No.

How much do you owe him now?—I don't know the exact figure, but approximately $2,300.

It seems to me that you made it a practice to get people to guarantee you. You know that Mr. Tobias was sued under this guarantee and had to pay the money?—Yes.

"DIDN'T PAY"

And when he applied to you, you didn't pay him and he had to issue a writ against you?—Yes.

Mr. Tobias, to oblige you, agreed to take instalments of $20 a month?—Yes.

And yet you did not pay any instalments since December, 1937?—No.

About these free tiffins you mentioned just now, did you go alone?—No, I sometimes went with my daughter.

And your wife, whom you alleged was the owner of the Harris Bookshop, did she get any free meals for her magazines?—No.

His Lordship: I understand that you do admit that you concealed the true state of affairs from the representative of John Dickinson & Co. in 1933 because you realized quite well that, if you disclosed them, the transaction would not go through?—Yes.

Re-examined by Mr. Remedios. Pasco said his wife signed the lease for the Harris Bookshop premises with the Hongkong Hotel in 1933. The reason why he did not include the other liabilities was because he was going to take the responsibility for them himself.

MR. HONG SLING'S EVIDENCE

Mr. Harry Hong Sling said that, on July 31, 1933, he guaranteed a loan to Pasco. Some time during that month Pasco had asked him for a loan of $2,000. He was unable to do so and, a few days later, Pasco telephoned and asked him to guarantee a note for $2,000 which he said he could get.

"I was reluctant," went on Mr. Hong Sling, "to get myself into any responsibility like that so I went and saw him. He told me he was definitely able to repay the note when it became due in three months' time, and pleaded with me almost with tears in his eyes to stand as guarantor in order to save his business. I agreed, and he also told him about the value of his stock, at the same time assuring me that he was well covered and that I need have no worry. I was not aware at the time that he was not the owner of the shop. He said he was the sole proprietor and that he had at least $30,000 worth of stock. I was sorry for him at the time and was trying to help him. I did not get any benefit out of it."

INIMICAL ATTITUDE

Mr. Hong Sling went on to say that, subsequently, Mr. Baker, who made the loan, took proceedings against him and Pasco, and he had to pay, as a result of the action, about $1,200. He had seen Pasco having tiffin at Parisian Cafe and also at the King's Theatre on November 12 when he took a $1.50 seat.

Since the loan, Pasco's attitude to him was inimical, to say the least. He would have nothing to say or do with him and looked at him in an antagonistic manner.

Mr. N. Morgenstern, a salesman in the Hongkong Hotel, Garage, who was on subpoena, told the Court that he had known Pasco since 1933. Pasco, as far as he knew, used to have an Austin 7 but had since sold it. His wife bought a car through him in January and about ten months later she purchased another one.

From 1933 to the beginning of 1936, witness was the manager of the United Artists, and, during that time, Pasco used to do secretarial work for him at $10 a week and later at $20 a month. Pasco never brought any books to his office, as far as he was aware.

This concluded the evidence. Mr. Remedios contended that the petition should be granted as Pasco's conduct in the Court had

BRITISH INTERESTS IN CHINA

Deputation To See Premier

Paris, Dec. 8. It is understood that the Associated British Chambers of Commerce including those in London, Manchester, Birmingham, Glasgow, etc., are preparing a careful statement on the situation regarding British interests in China with a view of sending a deputation to Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Halifax.

Far Eastern circles are of the opinion that Lord Plymouth's speech on December 7 shows a distinctly more satisfactory attitude by the Government than previously.

While regret is expressed that more positive action is not yet indicated, Lord Plymouth's unequivocal declaration on the Government's position in regard to the Nine-Power Treaty and the Open Door policy is universally welcomed.

It is pointed out that Japan's claims in this matter involve a fundamental issue on which no compromise is possible without betrayal of China and the sacrifice of vital interests.

The House of Commons Chinese Committee at a meeting yesterday evening agreed to continue to press the Government to resist, with all possible means, encroachments on British rights in China. The general feeling is that help ought to be given to China wherever feasible.—Reuter.

"WE WANT VENICE"

Paris, Dec. 8. Two thousand students demonstrated in the Latin quarters this morning shouting, "We want Venice, give Abyssinia back to the natives!"—Reuter.

been nothing else but honesty itself. He had been telling the truth throughout, and as regards the other liabilities not mentioned the reason was because they concerned only himself. His Lordship refused the petition.

CONFIDE IN FAITH PRIOR

AN AMERICAN WOMAN married a foreigner in 1907. She does not know what the naturalisation laws were at that time, and would like to know her present status in this respect.

IF YOU WERE married before March 2, 1907, you did not lose your citizenship if you continued to live in America after your marriage. If you were married after that date you did lose it. If the latter is the case you can be restored to your status as a citizen by a simple process, informal and taking very little time. For further information I would advise you to apply to your consul or the naturalisation service in your home city.

DISTURBED was out of town on business. While in the other city he met an old female acquaintance. On several occasions he escorted said lady to dinners and dances and was seen by mutual friends of his family.

His wife does not drink nor dance and he does not wish to hurt her feelings by having the incidents related to her. She was brought up very strictly and is not broad-minded. He asks what he can do?

YOU HAD BETTER TELL her in the simplest and most casual way you can, before your friends do it for you. No doubt she will be angry but you will have to risk that. If you add deceit to your wild out-swing, she can easily imagine a great many things you insist didn't happen at all. Don't tell your wife in the manner of confessing a major crime.

Appear as debonair as you can, and not as though you had been caught stealing jam. You'll probably make a mess of the telling, but it will be safer than having it come from someone else. Hereafter you'd better confine your sorties to your wife and it would be a good idea to persuade her to take a few dancing lessons.

You might compromise with her that you will stop drinking if she will learn to dance, and go out with you when you feel in a festive mood. Buy her a course of dancing lessons, a new frock and tell her how attractive she is. She may surprise you with her acquiescence to your invitation especially after you have made the announcement of your extra mural excursions!

LUNG ENGAGED is twenty years old and has promised to marry a man of thirty-one. They were to be married in December after a year and a half engagement. Her fiancé's brother was married in November, now, he states that a postponement of their marriage is necessary as he must take care of his family. Shall I break our engagement or be married at once?

IF YOU ARE GOING to be life partners it is important that you should stand well with your in-laws. A man who recognises the responsibilities towards his family is her hobby. Books are always apt to make a good husband. You can afford to be gracious at 20 a few months delay would not be serious. If you care enough to marry him don't risk an ultimatum. Besides nearly all men get panicky when they are getting married.

You're best procedure is to remain charming and attractive, win the family over to feeling you cannot become an in-law too soon to please them.

IGNORANT has a quarrel with wedding rings. How did the custom start? She believes that both parties or neither should be so labeled. In fact, she writes, its the men who need the keep-off sign the most. Isn't it legal to be married without a ring for the newly acquired female slave?

TUT, TUT! It isn't like that at all. In ancient Greece, it was the heroes who wore rings. May be in modern times it's the heroines. Then again free Romans were designated by the wearing of rings. Ambassadors, chief magistrates and senators were thus marked for honour. In many countries both husband and wife wear rings. Don't you know that the important part of a coronation ceremony for monarchs is the bestowal of a ring? In short, if anything a ring is a symbol of new power.

NON-LENDER does not believe in lending money to friends. She was asked for a loan of fifty dollars and at the time noticed the to be borrower wearing an expensive ring. She suggested the pawning of the ring. The person was insulted. She asks if her suggestion was such a bad one?

I agree with you about lending money, it is a bad habit and usually means the loss of friendship. Time was when a diamond engagement ring went in and out of pawn for a couple of years in many families. Such a situation has helped to keep many families self-respect and saved them from unnecessary obligations to friends.

DEAR FAITH PRIOR: A young man of my acquaintance has been extremely kind and attentive to me in the past year. I would like to give him a Christmas gift, would this be correct? If so, what should I select? Will you please suggest a gift for one of my teachers?

UNDECIDED: Regarding your first question, I think it would be a very nice gesture if you gave the young man an inexpensive gift at Christmas. However, I do not know the taste of this man. A book, a key-ring of leather, a photograph album, pipe and tobacco case, cigarettes, a loose-leaf note book, any of these would make welcome gifts and none of them are terribly expensive. If you wish to spend a little more for the gift a reliable pencil or fountain pen would be correct.

Where your teacher is concerned, select a gift pertaining to his or her hobby. Books are always Cocktail!

When the thought of cocktails comes to your mind, it brings with it the hours of 5 to 9 p.m. The cocktail or informal tea and afternoon frock is well defined at Mayo's in the Arcade. These dresses are rich in materials of velvet, crepes, satins, wool and satin combined and metal cloths or with such trims. Fashioned in the latest designs, they are short in skirt length and have different sleeve treatment. A few have jackets or boleros.

High Fashion

A swish, a billowing skirt, colours divine and thoughts of history book ladies of long ago—all these thoughts come to your mind when you see the new group of evening gowns at Mrs. Willy's in the

Sleepy Time Beauties

Lane Crawford's have an outstanding selection of styles for night apparel—warm, well-tailored pyjamas in colours with contrasting trims, smart bedroom slippers and comfortable hand-knit bed jackets in colours or white. Such a grouping would be the delight of any girl's heart on Christmas morning.

Fashion PRE-VIEW

ELEGANT, PRIM AND VICTORIAN

Notice the "high fashion" lady on our streets. Look in the smart shop windows. Regard the visitors from fashion centres disembarking from steamers and planes in Hongkong. In each and every instance the fashion note is "Victorian"—fashions of long days ago.

In reviving "Victorian" clothes, stylists have only taken the points that have prettiness combined with primness. They have discarded the stuffy plush ideas that were prevalent about that time.

The only reason for the renewed prominence of the 1900 feeling is that women have recognized beauty in the "real" things of that period.

Antique jewels are at a premium, because they have a softness and charm. There is a craze for paste necklaces, earrings, and old bracelets. You should wear big pins caught in the thick fur of your muff or on your shoulder. Cameos are very smart in the afternoon or evening picture. Heavy paste diamond necklaces in Victorian splendor give sophistication to modern off shoulder necklines.

Bracelets of heavy pearl ropes clasped with an enormous jewel are royal. Very new, are compacts with outside mirror framed in old fashioned gold for evening and for the same occasion black enamel, pearls and gold in an antique brooch mounted on a velvet band with earrings to match are enchanting.

Think back or bring out the family album. Your mother and grandmother were elegant in these pieces of jewellery and you are really of the same pattern.

Hats in the sport or dress picture are made of fur, all sizes and shapes. And do not forget to tip the hat down over one eye, give it a gentle shove from the back. Vels, pins and head bands will hold it securely to the top of your curly head.

Suede, felt and velvet are all very popular in the millinery style picture this winter. And of course no lady young or old will be minus a small black cloque with the eye veil which ties in the back or on top of the head in a big whiff of a bow. There is nothing like it for a mood!

Now, we see the time again (your mother expressed such an idea) when earrings are worn, throats clasped with necklaces, or velvet collars with antique jewels and soft colours are popular.

Instead of being streamlined and harshly brilliant, be softly feminine. It's the really lasting things from the "Victorian" years that are the ones to give you this new personality.

Your grandmother has told you so—And such is the case of the winter fashions!

effect can be reduced by the softer arrangement of orderly curls and swishes and the fuller arrangement of the hair at the back. Three variations presented in the photographs are all smart and will be becoming with the broader-brimmed hats which are coming into vogue.

Memories In Perfume

"There's Rosemary, that's for remembrance" ... but it doesn't take Shakespeare's immortal words out of the mouth of poor, mad Ophelia to tell smart women that the most enchanting memory of a lovely lady lingers in her perfume.

Perfume is more than just an odour. It is a subtle expression of the wearer's personality, and should be chosen to blend with your mood, your costume, the occasion, even to complement certain colours.

There are the sport perfumes, blended to fit into the outdoor mood. One is fresh, vital in fragrance reflecting cool beauty of forests, sparkling lakes and high mountains.

Another, a bit sophisticated has a faintly musky odour and particularly good for the lady who wears stunning, unusual tweeds. The third is slightly spicy and is made for the outdoor girl whose hair is always sleek and whose shirts are never wrinkled.

Violet The Rage

In the afternoons scents should be sweetness and sophistication blending, but not too heavily. Violet is new and quite the rage. Another haunting fragrance is lilac and still another new scent,

DOUBLE ADVANTAGE

In the new "on-top-of-the-head" coiffure, combs, large and small, are being used to double advantage. They are not only ornaments but necessary at times to keep the wisps in place.

Primly "Victorian" are the wide spreading taffeta dresses which express the picturesque quality of this year's return to soft, feminine styles and accessories.

Rich velvets, rustling taffetas, crunching brocades, swishing moires and shimmering satin are the materials which are designed into the gowns of the evening. Evening bags are once more made with iridescent stones and crushed velvet on fine net, the design having a lasting loveliness and harmonious with the splendour of formal fabrics.

Furs and furs alone complete the day and evening ensemble in this "Victorian" fashion season. Fluffy fur muffs in barrel, envelope, ball, bow and spiral shapes are quaint. Muffs of feathers for the evening are a young revival of an old idea and forever pretty. Day time offers many uses for the muff and cape the latter finished with drooping satin bows or jewel clasps.

REAL FLOWERS

Once more it is elegant to pin real flowers to furs, and use a jewelled corsage pin in this instance.

for the completely elegant lady in high fashion afternoon frocks and luxurious furs, is a subtle perfume with an Eastern name and hint of burnt amber.

Evening, and as the night comes on, perfumes change. Your mood is warm and light-hearted, then find that odour which is not flowery, but gay and flirtatious.

If your evening gown is heavy white satin, smooth and sleek, the perfume for you is the scent of sandalwood which is insinuating and subtle.

Yet again, your evening mood changes. Your gown is of billowing tulle or net, or filmy chiffon, then your scent can be an old favourite and the finest of perfumes, the sweet essence of white lilac, innocent but gay, the wings of romance.

USEFUL WAYS

However, do not depend only on your costume, there are many amusing and useful ways of keeping your individuality in scent.

1. A bracelet, clip or locket, holding cotton saturated with your particular scent.
2. The dressing table atomizer.
3. Perfumed satin toe-pads to keep your dancing shoes in shape. 4. Enchanting golden ball of perfume to hang on your lapel.

5. Perfumed satin clothes hangers.

6. Scented gloves.

7. The handbag flask or perfume bottle which does not leak and can be refilled.

8. Perfumed lacquer for painting your drawers and closet walls.

9. An electric lamp that burns perfume and scents your whole room.

10. A special perfume for your hair that scents without drying.

11. Charms to hang from your bracelet.

And a few other suggestions:

Scented flannel to line lingerie and trunk drawers. Perfumed squares to sew in your muff; and a variety of scented cases to hold almost anything from lingerie to cleaning tissues and jewellery.

Whether your role be glamorous or naive, siren or demure, gay, witty, sparkling fresh or ardently warm, it is your perfume that carries the message of your personal beauty—and the memory lingers on!

THORNYCROFT'S NEW SIX-WHEELER

Among the new models shown by Thornycrofts at the Scottish Motor Show in Glasgow was a twin-steering, rigid frame six-wheeler, designed for pay-loads up to 10 tons or for a gross laden running weight of 18 tons.

Unlike the conventional rigid frame three-axle vehicle, this model has a single rear axle and two steered front axles, this arrangement giving ideal axle loading, good fuel economy and long tyre life.

Steering is of the cam and roller type and operates on the two forward axles by means of inter-connected fore and aft drag links. The power unit is a Gardner 5LW oil engine, developing up to 85 b.h.p.

SCOURGE OF MALARIA IN BRITISH INDIA

White as snow... strong as a horse... rich as Croesus! These are comparisons that we hear used every day by young and old in every walk of life. What would language be like without comparisons? How could we express our ideas, if the word "like" did not exist?

When we wish to describe the beauty or ugliness of a thing, we illustrate our account with comparisons, and the word "like" is constantly occurring.

Sir Henry Gidney also made use of a comparison, when he wished to impress on his hearers the gravity of the scourge represented by malaria: "If all the corpses of the victims claimed by malaria in British India were placed side by side, they would stretch from the north to the south of India."

This is a staggering yet true comparison. Of the 300,000,000 inhabitants, 2,000,000 die every year of malaria and 90,000,000 are attacked. Yet these figures give only a poor idea of the scourge represented by malaria throughout the world. It is a scourge that has claimed more victims than the most bloody wars and the most serious epidemics. And when we realise this, we also understand the importance for humanity of the discovery of a preventive and curative remedy for malaria.

The Commission appointed by the League of Nations to study questions concerning malaria came to the conclusion that six grains of quinine each day, taken throughout the fever season, is sufficient to ward off this malady.

For treating cases of malaria, this same Commission recommends that a daily dose of 15 to 20 grains of quinine should be taken during five to seven days. There is no necessity to apply additional treatment in case of a relapse, the treatment is given as before.

N.Z. FACTORY LIGHTING

The largest single indoor installation of mercury vapour lighting in New Zealand has been carried out at the works of the Ford Motor Co. at Wellington, and includes more than 200 fittings supplied by the British General Electric Co. Ltd.

A remarkably good distribution of light is obtained on the trim and assembly lines, where parabolic angle reflectors with 250-watt Osram lamps are installed at about 8 feet centres. The chassis are carried along these lines on a moving belt during construction work.

This arrangement enables the slightest scratch or flaw in the metal to be detected, thus assuring a first class finish to the metal work before the enamelling process.

HEAVY INDUSTRIES IN MANCHURIA

The Manchukuo Heavy Industries Company stated last week that it would invite American, German and Italian investments, especially in automobile and aircraft manufacturing.

The Company reported that an agreement had been reached with American interests for co-operation while starting in the manufacture of automobiles.

It was learned that Vice-President Maehara of the Manchukuo Aircraft Company left for Europe by way of the United States to negotiate with German and Italian capitalists for large investments in the new aircraft concern.

LIBERTY BOND SALES

The selling of Kwangtung Provincial Liberty Bonds, which were first issued in March, has ceased since the fall of Canton. However, as gathered by the Hongkong office of the Sales Committee, of the total amount of $15,000,000 issued, $12,000,000 was sold. Hongkong alone bought over $600,000.
